

KEARNY

TRIED TWICE TO KILL HIMSELF AT CHICAGO.

CONFESSION JUST MADE PUBLIC

Negro Refused to Return to Ohio Without Requisition Papers—Confession of Foul Murder at Delaware, Ohio—Two Desperate Efforts to Take His Own Life in Jail.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—Harry Kearney, colored, who claimed Tuesday to know who killed Herbert Noyes, the Cleveland society man, a year ago, made two attempts to kill himself in jail today. Last night Kearney made another confession to Detective Parker of Cleveland, and now Kearney refuses to go to Cleveland without requisition papers and Parker will not tell what his confession was. Kearney grew despondent and first tried to burn himself with kerosene and afterwards attempted to strangle himself with his leather shoe laces. He is now under guard.

CRIME AT DELAWARE.
Kearney's confession has just been made public. He denies that he killed Noyes at Cleveland but says he had a quarrel with one Kearns, a bartender at a Delaware, Ohio, hotel, and that while he was a cook at that hotel he put arsenic in Kearns' coffee, from the effects of which he died. He is now ready to expiate the crime of murder.

CHUN AT BERLIN.

Berlin, Sept. 5.—After witnessing the field exercises of the guards regiment at Potsdam today, Prince Chun came to Berlin. He was received here informally by the Kaiser.

NOT SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Mr. Arthur P. Givin called at the Advocate office today and said that the report that his wife had been injured by jumping from a North Fourth street car while it was in motion, was a mistake. He says that the car had come to a stop when she alighted, and that while she was reaching in between the seats to secure her child the car started and she tripped and fell backwards, and injured herself. She is getting along finely now and it is thought that no serious results will follow.

TODAY'S MARKETS.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—Today's markets closed: October wheat 69½; corn 55½; oats 33½; pork $14.47.

COLUMBIA TO DEFEND AMERICAN CUP.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—The Columbia has been chosen to defend the American cup. The committee came to the conclusion that it would be unsafe to choose the Constitution. This decision was reached after critical analysis of all the conditions. It was decided that there is not sufficient time to overcome what they term the Constitution's crankiness. The committee frankly believes the races with Shamrock II. will be very close, but Columbia's improved form and the splendid work of crew inspire them with confidence that she will successfully defend the cup.

SOLDIERS

POISONED BY EATING MEAT AT McPHERSON BARRACKS.

It is Said Several May Die—Colonel French Refuses to Make a Statement.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 5.—Two hundred and seventy-five soldiers of the 27th regiment are suffering from ptomaine poisoning at McPherson barracks. It is supposed there was poison in the meat furnished the men. The affair is rigidly guarded by the officers, who refuse to give any information. It is claimed that several of the soldiers may die. All efforts to secure a statement from Colonel French today are futile.

MISSING

Is a Wealthy Manufacturer Who is Believed to Have Been Killed for a Big Sum of Money.

Delmar, Del., Sept. 5.—Mitchell H. German, a wealthy brick manufacturer of this place, is missing and it is thought he may have been killed for his money. He had about $10,000 with him. Mr. German has been gone since August 26. On that date German boarded the early morning express at this station for Aberdeen, Md., for the purpose of purchasing land in that vicinity. He did not reach Aberdeen and has not been seen since.

WORK TRAIN

Was Demolished in a Bad Wreck in Which Three Trainmen Were Seriously Injured.

Elmira, N. Y., Sept. 5.—A freight train on the Lackawanna road ran into a work train in the fog this morning at Lowmanville. Three train hands were seriously hurt and one, Lewis, fireman of the freight, may die. The work train was demolished. One hundred Italians, laborers, were shaken up and bruised, but none will die.

SAMPSON

WILL ATTEND SCHLEY COURT OF INQUIRY.

According to the Best Information Obtainable—Conflicting Reports About Condition.

Washington, Sept. 5.—All sorts of stories are sent out regarding the condition of Admiral Sampson, who is said to be ill, but according to the best information obtainable this noon Admiral Sampson is eager and well enough to attend the Schley court of inquiry which will open one week from today.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 5.—If the private advices received here touching the mental condition of Admiral Sampson are borne out by facts he is simply a mental wreck. A dispatch from Boston says the deplorable condition of the Admiral is well known and recognized by the guests of the hotel where he is located. They see him taken out every day for a ride or on some excursion devised for the purpose of diverting his mind. He can walk, ride and eat with apparent relish. It is only when his brain is called into action that the disease from which he is suffering makes itself manifest. He has long since given up the task of attending to his correspondence, all of his letters now being written by his wife.

Often when he attempts to talk he exhibits a forgetfulness which is pitiable. When he was asked within an hour after his arrival at Sunapee how long he had been at the hotel he looked vacantly around and finally replied: "I do not know." His questioner, totally unaware of the Admiral's affliction, repeated the inquiry several times, until at last Mrs. Sampson had to answer and to lead her husband away.

The Admiral, it is stated, is the victim of aphasia, a disease of the brain which prevents him from uttering the words which represent certain objects or ideas. This disease from which he is suffering is well known to physicians who make a specialty of nervous disorders. It is not incurable, but the outlook for recovery is much less hopeful in adults than in children. At the advanced age of Admiral Sampson the chances are almost entirely against him. In cases of partial recovery the patient may be able to talk, but will continually misplace words. One of the symptoms of the disease is the emotional and irritable condition of the patient.

NEW TRUST

This Time the Companies Manufacturing Laundry Machinery Form a Big Combination.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 5.—Arrangements are about completed for the consolidation of the companies manufacturing 98 per cent of the laundry machinery manufactured in the United States, and the trust has reached the stage of applying for a charter to make the combination effective. The company is organized under the New Jersey law and will have a capitalization of $16,500,000. The organization will be known as the American Laundry Machine Manufacturing company, and it has options on twelve plants to be absorbed by the company.

The postal authorities of Chicago recently made a test of automobile vehicles for carrying the mails. The results are reported to have been entirely satisfactory.

An extensive exposition is proposed by the people of Victoria, Australia to be held at Bendigo, at the end of this year, to commemorate the discovery of gold in 1851.

Tonight's Bout.

New Britain, Conn., Sept. 5.—There is much interest in the bout to be fought in this city tonight between Arlie Simms of Akron, Ohio, and Kid Thomas of New York. ARRIVE FROM COLUMBUS TO GO INTO CAMP.

Two Companies Will Remain a Month. Two Companies Will Come Later. The Ninth Infantry.

Captain George Palmer, quartermaster of the Ninth U. S. Infantry, stationed at the Columbus barracks, arrived here on the early morning train and made arrangements for the encampment of Company B and C of the Permanent State Grounds. The arrangements were quickly made and the two companies arrived here about 11 o'clock this morning, under command of Major J. A. Lovering. They disembarked at the Showman crossing and marched to the camp grounds where they will remain for one month, engaging in rifle practice on the range. Upon their departure Companies A and D of the Ninth Infantry, will take their places and remain for a month.

Twenty-two soldiers of the regular army from the Columbus barracks, passed through Newark this morning in charge of First Sergeant Gueth. They came in on B. & O. 102, and went north on No. 7 in a special sleeper.

They are assigned to the Fifth Cavalry, troop H, at Fort Du Chesne, Utah, and are a fine looking set of men.

EATE TOADSTOOLS AND QUICKLY DIED.

Brazil, Ind., Sept. 5.—Mrs. William Jameson, residing near Elkhart, Ind., was here and purchased a wedding outfit for her daughter, Miss Elias, and aided in selecting the furniture, as her daughter was to have been married this evening. However, the girl ate what she supposed was mushrooms for supper and a few hours later became violently ill, dying in the arms of her lover yesterday. The physicians think she ate toadstools instead of mushrooms.

MONEY FOUND IN AN AUGER HOLE.

Norwalk, O., Sept. 5.—Last evening was divulged a remarkable find of old money in an auger hole in a barn being repaired on the Niles farm near the county infirmary this city. Theodore Sanders, the tenant, was the lucky finder. The money consisted of thirty-one ten dollar bills of the Shermans Canal bank of Elmira, N. Y., dated 1844, a one hundred dollar bill on some defunct bank, and one ten dollar bill on the old United States bank of Philadelphia, which was destroyed by President Jackson. The money on the Chenung bank has been redeemed dollar for dollar.

HAS FORTUNE YET LIVES LIKE TRAMP.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Although he has a fortune of $30,000, Luke Nolan of Port Amboy, lives with tramps. He has spent most of his life so. About a month ago he was discharged from jail after serving 60 days for vagrancy. He found a letter from a firm of lawyers notifying him that an aunt in Ireland had died making him sole heir to her fortune of $30,000. A few days ago Nolan received $500 as an installment of the income which he is to receive quarterly. He passed the first night after this with tramps in a hobo camp. The tramps were his guests and he bought beer by the keg and whiskey by the bottle until they were in a state of coma.

RAILWAYS

PAY ONLY ON 21 PER CENT OF THEIR SELLING VALUATION

While Real Estate Pays on Sixty Per Cent, Claims Mayor Johnson. Argument to State Board.

Columbus, O., Sept. 5.—On behalf of the Ohio Municipal League Mayor Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland, and his tax expert Bemis, appeared before the state board of equalization today. They presented the result of their investigation showing that the railroads in Ohio only pay on 21 per cent of their selling valuation, while real estate pays on 60 per cent. They claim that two hundred millions of railway valuation escape taxation. A big crowd was present, including many railway lawyers.

BUCKEYE ROAD

GANG STOPPED AT CORNER OF CHURCH AND SECOND.

Rails Too Near Curb—Work Along Line is Progressing—Cars Will Soon Run.

The gang at work laying track for the Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark Traction Company was stopped at the corner of Church and Second streets by Officers Zergiebel and Rinehart on Wednesday, from continuing the work on authority of City Solicitor Smythe.

The city ordinance provides that the tracks at the curve shall be laid as far as possible from the curb, and as they were laying the track it would have come within about three feet of the curbing at the southwest corner. Objection was made to the curve the company proposed to establish at the corner of Fourth and Church streets, and the surveyor then made a shorter curve putting the track nearer the center of the street. There should be room for the passage of a team between the track and the street corner.

From the corner of Second and Church streets the track will run south on Second to the Pan Handle passenger station.

The men who are stringing the trolley line from Hebron to Newark are progressing nicely and work all along the line is being rushed. The company is being highly complimented for the excellent construction work.

INJUNCTION ALLOWED.

Today Solicitor Smythe applied to Judge Jones for an injunction to restrain the company from setting the track too close to the curb at the corner of Second and Church streets, and the temporary injunction was allowed. Mr. Smythe asks that the track be 19 feet instead of less than four from the curb at that corner and that the track down Second street be 30 instead of 12 feet from the west curb.

MILLER REUNION.

The Seventh Annual Reunion of the Miller Family was held at Summerland Beach, one-half mile from Millersport, on the 29th of August. Representatives came from all over the State and a very pleasant and enjoyable time was had by all present. An excellent program was rendered and last, but not least, was the magnificent dinner which made one feel as if it would be good to have a Miller at the head of one's culinary department.

Those in attendance were Mr. Thos. Gaines, Mr. Gaines, Mr. and Mrs. Pleasant Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kinney, Mr. and Mrs. Jud Keller, Mr. J. F. Keller and Mrs. M. S. King.

The organization honored Mr. J. F. Keller by making him Vice President for the ensuing year. They hope at some future time to hold the reunion at Newark.

STRIKE

AMALGAMATED REJECTS TERMS OF SETTLEMENT

MAKES COUNTER PROPOSITION.

Civic Federation Peace Committee Declines to Talk on the Situation—Tin Plate Mill Idle Since July and National Tube Works in Operation Now—Agitation and Uneasiness.

McKeesport, Pa., Sept. 5.—The advisory board of the Amalgamated Association and Federation of Labor are holding a meeting in Armory hall. A vote of importance in relation to the strike is expected to be taken.

New York, Sept. 5.—The Civic Federation Peace committee now in session decline to talk on the steel strike situation.

McKeesport, Pa., Sept. 5.—The Demmeler tin plate mill resumed this morning, it being the first work done since the plant closed in July. One hundred men are at work and all are the old employees. At the National tube works 500 men were at work this morning. The strikers made no attempt to molest the men.

Pittsburg, Sept. 5.—The steel strike settlement terms offered at the conference in New York are said to have been declined yesterday over the telephone by President Shaffer. President Schwab's offer that all the union mills not now in operation be opened as union mills, all the union mills the trust has succeeded in operating to be recognized as non-union, would reduce the Amalgamated strength about one-half. It is hoped that something more toward a settlement may be accomplished at today's session.

Pittsburg, Sept. 5.—At its meeting this morning, the advisory committee of the Amalgamated association rejected President Schwab's terms already given out. The Amalgamated has made a counter proposition to reopen the mills pending a settlement by arbitration.

CHUN AND THE KAISER.

Kaiser William has benevolently permitted Prince Chun, the Chinese special envoy, to meet him alone in his palace with only the necessary interpreter present to apologize on behalf of China for the murder of Baron Von Ketteler, the German Minister at Peking. The emperor also waives the process of "kotowang," that is, Prince Chun will not be required to bump his head on the floor in William's presence, and the ceremony will be very simple without the humiliating observances that were at first contemplated.

After these apologies are made and accepted Prince Chun will become a royal guest and will be royally treated. He will be tendered banquets and receptions. He will also visit the principal European capitals, traveling in oriental state and receiving the attentions of the various governments. It will be something like a triumphal tour.

The murder of Baron Von Ketteler by the Chinese "boxers" was one of the most atrocious crimes of our era, but Germany visited full retribution on China in addition to requiring the national humiliation implied in the mission and apology of Prince Chun to the emperor. The punishment of the Chinese by German soldiers in Peking vied with the excesses of "boxer" cruelty.

Perhaps this is why the emperor softened the manner of Prince Chun's apology so that it will amount only to a polite formula.

The people of the country will be glad to learn that Admiral Sampson's health is not as bad as was reported. He will be able to attend the Schley trial and to appear as a witness. His testimony is needed to vindicate Schley from his own charge of "reprehensible conduct." Letters over his own signature which he will be asked to verify are evidence that his later petulant charge is false and unjust. His whole story of the Santiago campaign will be compared with the searchlight of cross-examination with the unexpurgated logs of various vessels in the fleet and with his own reports. That should elicit the truth or something approximating it.

TO WHOM CREDIT IS DUE.

The splintered condition in which our paved streets were left after the construction of the Buckeye Lake road, moved the American Tribune to warm words of praise last night. It is true that the streets have been put in better condition by this company, than has been the practice in the past. But the A-T. was careful to withhold credit for the same from those to whom it was due.

The credit belongs entirely to the vigilance of the street committee of the Council, under the direction of Chairman J. P. Lamb, that this work has been done in the manner which meets with the commendation of the A-T. These gentlemen have given much of their time to this work and have carefully guarded the city's interests at every step in the prosecution of it.

It is a fact which has long been recognized that the city has a Council that could not be improved upon. All of the members are business men who have their own business to attend to, but they always find time to attend to the city's business, with as much care as they bestow upon their own. This is a justification of the old maxim that the busy man always has more time to do a thing well than the man without a business.

REPUBLICANS AND TRUSTS.

(Pittsburg Post.)
Vice President Roosevelt is industrious and persevering in political work in the Northwest. On Sunday he preached from a Chicago pulpit on the duty of manly work, by which everyone will seek to do justice to himself and his neighbor. It was on the old text of the golden rule. Going to Minneapolis next day, he addressed a labor audience, the notable part of his speech being an argument that the Government should restrain the trusts. "More and more it is evident," he said, "that the State and, if necessary, the Nation has got to possess the right of supervision and control as regards the great corporations, which are its creatures; particularly as regards the great business combinations which derive a portion of their importance from the existence of some monopolistic tendency." Now for us Vice President Roosevelt or his party attempt to make these brave words good, and bridle or control the trusts. They will do nothing of the kind. Commencing such professions in 1890 they have not made a single practicable step against the trusts. They have made anti-trust laws and failed to enforce them. On the other hand they have been in political alliance with the trusts, and carried elections and maintained policies by their active aid.

Must Have Campaign Funds.

(Toledo Bee.)
Congressman Grosvenor, familiarly known to fame as the mouthpiece, chief butter-in and general all-around boss billy-goat of the administration, raps Congressman Babcock over the knuckles and says there will be no tariff tinkering by the next congress. In other words, an Ohio campaign is about to come on and a friendly tip is given to friendly contributing trusts to the effect that the Republican elephant will stand hitched. The Hanna machine needs another campaign fund.

What is Sampson's Status?

(Albany Argus.)
What does Sampson want of counsel in the Schley court of inquiry? Does he appear as a complainant or as a defendant? What is his status in the case? How has he a standing in court? Where he stands before the bar of public opinion is quite apart from this inquiry.

Fighting Expected.

Colon, Colombia, Sept. 5.—The United Fruit company's steamer Sunrise, chartered by Herr Beckman, the German consul at Bocas Del Toro, arrived here with a view of obtaining the presence of the United States gunboat Maquias at Bocas Del Toro, where fighting is expected to begin at any moment, the government troops having advanced within a mile of Provision island, where the insurgents are, and now occupying a superior position. Herr Beckman failed to obtain the presence of the Maquias at Bocas Del Toro, as she is needed more urgently at Colon. The Colombian government brought troops and artillery and ammunition by special train from Panama to Gatun, on the outskirts of Colon, owing to the threatening attitude of the rebels.

Mrs. Austin has just come to town.

STEEL STRIKE

Amalgamated strikers, caused by the apparently unfavorable developments. The leaders, however, profess to be satisfied with present conditions and claim that ultimate victory will be theirs. Much was hoped for from the peace conference in New York, but the announcement of the failure to reach a decision put a damper on these hopes. Still, many hold to the belief that the matter now being up to the strike leaders to accept or reject, whatever may have been the proposition made, a settlement will speedily be reached. The steel officials are in a very confident mood and appear to think the strike is broken effectually, and that only a few days more will be required to make it a thing of the past.

From a reliable source, it was learned that Charles M. Schwab's proposal to the strikers was that the company shall obtain as open mills all those which it has succeeded in starting and operating since the strike was declared. All mills which the strikers have kept closed Mr. Schwab agrees shall remain union mills. These terms will be submitted to President Shaffer and the executive board of the Amalgamated Association.

The Peace Conference.

New York, Sept. 5.—Terms of peace in the steel strike were discussed at length at a secret conference in which steel officials of the United States Steel corporation, leaders of union labor and representatives of the civic organizations which have intervened. No conclusion was reached, and the decision either to terminate or continue the strike must be made by the strikers. The nature of the agency from the labor leaders who participated in the discussion is not known, but it is believed they possessed an outline of terms from President Shaffer and that they will place before him and his associates the terms resubmitted by President Schwab of the United States Steel corporation. It was also apparent at the conclusion of the discussion that if the conference is to be resumed or any further action toward peace taken the strikers must make the initiative.

ARMED DEPUTIES

Landed in the Town of McKeesport. Mayor Indignant.
McKeesport, Pa., Sept. 5.—This city was thrown into a state of consternation by the arrival of a force of deputies demanded of Sheriff McKinley by the officials of the American Tin Plate company. At the first intimation that such a course would be pursued, Mayor R. J. Black held a conference over the telephone with the sheriff. Later he went to Pittsburgh, and on his return he was boiling over with indignation. He denounced the action of Sheriff McKinley in the bitterest terms. Chief of Police Patrick J. Morrissey volunteered to land every deputy at the police station if the mayor would only give the word but the mayor cautioned him that such action would transcend his powers. The mayor gave out a signed statement in which he said that the action of Sheriff McKinley was an insult to the city, wanton, impolitic and ill-advised. He also added that there was no disorder in the city and that the presence of armed deputies was a great menace to peace.

Mill Tied Up.

Pittsburg, Sept. 5.—The Anchor nail and tack works, on the South Side, transformed into a sheet mill and operated as an independent plant by strikers from the Wellsville plant of the United States Steel corporation, has been tied up. The mill has two trains of the sheet rolls and a bar mill. P. J. Connor, the foreman, was leader of the Wellsville strikers.

Reciprocity Convention.

Philadelphia, Sept. 5.—The executive committee of the National Association of Manufacturers, after a session lasting nearly five hours, decided to call a reciprocity convention at a date to be later named. In pursuance of this decision the committee adopted the following resolution: "Resolved, for the purpose of clear comprehension and expression of public sentiment respecting the reciprocal and trade relations with foreign powers, that this committee deems it expedient that there be held under the auspices of the National Association of Manufacturers a national conference on reciprocity." It is probable some western city will be chosen as the place of meeting of the convention.

Schley's Request.

Washington, Sept. 5.—Admiral Schley has made a request of the navy department that a number of witnesses which he expects to call before the court of inquiry be brought to Washington at this time in order to permit of conferences between them and counsel. In response to this request Acting Secretary Hackett advised the admiral that if he will turn in a list of those he desired to come they will be brought here as rapidly as circumstances permit. The navy department has no official information as to condition of Admiral Sampson.

Fatal Street Fight.

Indianapolis, Sept. 5.—An old grudge was responsible for a street fight between John Morrison and William Patterson, in which Morrison was probably fatally stabbed. Morrison was taken to the city hospital, where little hope was given for his recovery. Patterson and his friend Walter Bluer, who interfered, were arrested and charged with assault and battery with intent to kill.

IN A ROW

At the Frankfort Jail Jim Howard Knocked Caleb Powers Out with a Heavy Inkstand.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 5.—Ex-Secretary of State Caleb Powers and James Howard, convicted in the Goebel murder conspiracy, were in a heavy inkstand at powers, striking him in the head. Powers was knocked over and bled profusely. Drs. Deane and Crutcher dressed the wound. They remained with Powers over a hour. The only witness was ex-Admiral General J. K. Dixon, who was in conference with the two men. Powers was too ill to be seen. Howard, on the advice of his attorneys, refused to talk. Dr. Demaree said Powers was in a serious state. Colonel J. K. Dixon, assistant adjutant general under the administration of former Governor Taylor, who had just returned from eastern Kentucky, where he collected considerable money for the defense of both Powers and Howard, was in the room with the men at the time of the trouble. A controversy between the two men arose as to a division of the money. Both grew angry and Howard seized an iron inkstand and hurled it at Powers with terrific force.

Chalmers' Strike.

Pittsburg, Sept. 5.—Reports received here on the chalmers' strike are to the effect that the scale has been signed by the Morgan chain works at Trenton, N. J., and the American Chain company of Zanesville, O., two of the smaller concerns. The Standard Chain company, the leading producers of chain, is said to be entirely unaffected at the majority of its shops. It is claimed that its plants at Lebanon, Pa., Carlisle, Pa., Sa. Marys, O., Marion, Ind., and Harrisburg, Pa., are running in full operation. The two plants at York, Pa., and the Braddock plant are in operation, but with reduced forces. The Columbus plant is closed down, as well as the plant of the Columbus Chain company.

Senator Clark May Buy It.

Butte, Mont., Sept. 5.—Announcement is made that Senator W. A. Clark is about to become the owner of the famous Bitter Root stock farm, founded and brought to perfection by the late Marcus Daly. It is stated that Mrs. Daly is anxious to dispose of her property and that Senator Clark has sent a personal representative to the ranch to examine the property and report to him as to its value. The ranch is famous the world over as having been the former home of noted horses.

Loss of Steamer Islander.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 5.—The investigation of the loss of the steamer Islander has begun. The pilot found practically the same as given in interviews, denying all reports that he and the captain were under the influence of liquor. Mate Nordstrom, Watchman Ward, Chief Engineer Browne and other engineers, Purser Bishop and Quartermaster Perry gave evidence. The evidence differs little from the published interviews, but a majority denied the statement that the master and pilot were intoxicated.

Working Night and Day.

RACE

Between the Constitution and the Columbia Was a Rattling One. The Columbia Won.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 5.—In a trial race between the Columbia and Constitution, sailed over a 15-mile windward and leeward course, the Columbia won by 17 seconds corrected time. The Columbia led throughout, but started 1 minute and 12 seconds ahead of the Constitution. The Constitution, however, sailed the first 15 miles 22 seconds faster than the Columbia and came home 22 seconds faster, which was not quite sufficient to cover the time allowance. A mile from the finish the Constitution's balloon jib was torn in half but the Columbia took in her balloon jib immediately afterward. About a quarter of a mile from the finish Columbia set a reaching jib and crossed 19 seconds ahead of the Constitution. The race was very exciting from start to finish, and opened anew the question of superiority.

CAUSE OF THE FEUD.

A Fuss Between Jim, Joe and Bud Started It.

"As high as I can remember," said the Kentucky mountaineer when asked what was the beginning of a certain feud of long standing, "Jim Sharpless had a bawg, Joe Tucker had a dawg, and Bud Taylor had a jug of whisky. How the bawg and the dawg and the jug got mixed together I disremember, but 'long ago Jim and Joe and Bud and begins a fuss, and two of 'em got killed, and since that time everybody has bin shootin' at everybody else whenever he has a chance. Maybe that dawg bit the dawg, or the bawg broke the jug, or the men was onery and ached for a fuss, but I reckon it don't make no difference. Bin 22 of 'em killed and 30 hurt, and it's still goin' on, and if I jest ride round that turn by the river it's likely you'll find a Sharpless waitin' for a Parker or a Parker lyin' low for a Taylor, and you'll get a bullet to yor fur meddlin' with other folks' laziness."

General Scheme All Wrong.

"Come and take your bath now, Ticklowell, like a good little boy," urged the nurse. "You know I wouldn't tell you to do it if it wasn't necessary."

"You touch now, William," said the little Boston boy, still hanging back, "upon one of the inscrutable mysteries, I do not object to these frequent bathings in themselves considered, but I do resent the evident necessity for them. It shows there is something inherently wrong in the constitution of things."—Chicago Tribune.

Foreboding.

"We are drifting toward a very dangerous condition in our political affairs," said the summer boarder.

"Yes," said Farrer, Cornotssel. "I've noticed it for some time. If all the men have to quit work to argue about the best way to get the government straightened out, I don't know what's going to happen to the crops and the chores."—Washington Star.

Difference in Taste.

Wife—Mr. Black has no more taste in the matter of dress than a giraffe. Husband—Why do you say that?

Wife—Because his wife had on the most beautiful gown last night, and when I admired it he said he thought it was dreadful.

Husband—But, my dear, he had to pay $500 for it.—Detroit Free Press.

Sure He Knows Best.

Mamma—Dora, your father says that that young man of yours, Mr. Hartt, is deceiving you.

Dora—But he isn't, mamma, for I asked him, and he said he wasn't. Of course he knows better than papa.—Boston Transcript.

To a Dot.

Willie—How would you define a true sportsman?

Papa—He is a man who believes in giving every kind of game creature a chance for its life and then is disgusted if the poor creature escapes with it.—New York Life.

Well Named.

Mr. Eatsem—What kind of sandwich is this? I enjoy it, but I can't figure out what it is made of.

Proud Host—We call that our Omar Khayyam sandwich. You like it, but you don't understand it.—Baltimore American.

Would Like to Have a Crack at It.

"Faime," said the man with the melancholy eye, "is but an empty bubble."

"Yes," answered the friend with long hair, "but every man has the idea that if he could get hold of it he could turn it into a dirigible balloon."—Washington Star.

Certainly Careless.

Forrester—Mrs. Plainleigh says her husband is of a retiring disposition.

Lancaster—Very likely. He must have been dreaming when he married her.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

SOME LOST SECRETS.

FAMOUS PROCESSES THAT WERE KNOWN TO THE ANCIENTS.

Things That Our Forefathers Were Able to Do That We Now Find Well Nigh Impossible—Cement of the Greeks and Romans.

Taking into consideration the marvelous strides we have made in almost every branch of knowledge during the last 200 or 300 years, it seems exceedingly strange that our forefathers should have been able to do things which we find impossible and that we cannot discover secrets which were almost common knowledge hundreds of years ago. But despite the fact that the average modern man knows more than did the learned men of long ago, there are mysteries of knowledge and science which our most advanced scientists cannot solve.

Thousands of years ago, for instance, the Egyptians used to embalm the bodies of their dead kings and nobility so perfectly that the bodies are in wonderful preservation today, as may be seen at the British museum. Clever as we are in this age, we cannot do the same. The valuable secret is lost and modern science cannot recover the lost knowledge. We can, of course, and we do embalm bodies, but only for temporary preservation and, comparatively speaking, in a most unsatisfactory manner. Bodies which are embalmed nowadays will not be preserved for more than a few days at most. Very many of the bodies the Egyptians embalmed before the birth of Christ are still so perfect that the lines of their faces are still as clearly marked as when they were first embalmed.

Sheffield turns out the finest, hardest and most perfect steel the world produces, but even Sheffield cannot produce a sword blade to compare with those the Saracens made and used hundreds of years ago, and the Saracens never possessed the machinery we have or had the advantage of knowing so much about metals as we are supposed to know. A huge fortune awaits the man who discovers the secret which enabled the Saracens to make sword blades so keen and hard that they could cut in two most of the swords used today.

There are a dozen different methods of making artificial diamonds, but none of the stones produced by these methods can compare with those made of old French paste, the secret of which is lost. So perfect were these diamonds that it was difficult for even a person with expert knowledge of diamonds to tell that they were artificial produced, whereas most of the modern artificial diamonds can easily be detected, and their durability is nothing like so great as the old paste diamonds.

Probably not one out of every ten thousand buildings standing in all parts of the world, and built by modern masons, will still be standing 500 years hence. We do not know how to put stones and bricks together as the ancients did, and consequently the buildings we raise nowadays are really mere temporary structures and will be in ruins when the ancient buildings of Greece and Italy, which were built thousands of years ago, are in as good condition as they are now. The secret is not in the bricks or the stone, but in the cement and mortar, neither of which essentials can we make as the ancients made them.

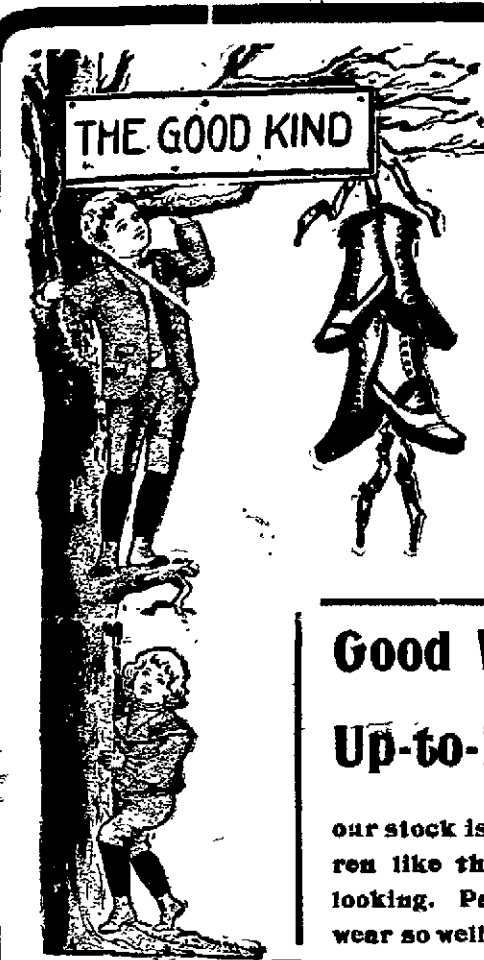

In modern buildings the cement and mortar are the weakest points; in buildings which the Romans and Greeks raised thousands of years ago the cement and mortar are the strongest points and hold good while the very stones they bind together crumble away with age. We cannot, with all our science, make such cement and mortar, and therefore we cannot build such buildings as the ancients raised.

Chemistry, one might imagine, is the science which has, perhaps, made the greatest strides. Yet modern chemists cannot compound such dyes as were commonly used when the great nations of today were still unborn. Now and again it happens that searchers after antiquities come across fragments of fabrics which were dyed thousands of years ago, and they are astonished by the wonderful richness of the colors of the cloths, which, despite their age, are brighter and purer than anything we can produce.

Modern artists buy their colors ready made and spend large sums on pigments with which to color their canvases. The pictures of modern artists will be colorless when many of the works of ancient masters are as bright as they are today. Just as the secret of dyeing has been lost, so has the secret of preserving the colors of artists' paintings. Yet the secret was known to every ancient artist, for they all mixed their own colors.

How to make durable ink is another great secret we have lost. Look at any letter five or ten years old and you will probably notice that the writing has faded to a brown color and is very indistinct. Go to any big museum and you will find ancient MSS. the writing of which is as black and distinct as if the MSS. were written the day before yesterday.

The secret of glass blowing and tinting is not yet entirely lost. There are still a few men who can produce glass work equal to the things of this kind which the ancients turned out hundreds of years ago. But the average glass manufacturer cannot produce anything that could at all compare with some of the commoner articles the Egyptians, and later, the founders of Venice, manufactured, and those who still hold the ancient secret guard it so closely that it will probably die with them and be added to the long list of things in which our ancestors beat us hollow.—Exchange.

WILL RESUME INVESTIGATION LATER IN SEASON.

Returns to Columbus Slightly Indisposed—Met with Obstacles While at Cincinnati.

Mrs. James R. Hopley, formerly Miss Sheppard of Granville, has returned from Cincinnati where she went as the special representative of the State labor department, says the Columbus Dispatch. She was recently appointed to that position by M. D. Hatchford, labor politician, the object being to investigate the conditions of affairs where women are employed in the Cincinnati workshops of various kinds. Mrs. Hopley returned to the city slightly indisposed, and will renew her efforts to obtain information on this matter later in the season.

During the time she was in the city she met with some obstructions from employers on the grounds that they objected to any person entering their factories during working hours. That is one of the well defined rules governing such places of employment, as it has been found that the presence of outsiders materially interferes with business, and results in a loss of considerable time which must be paid for by employers. A rule of that kind also applies in many of the Columbus factories.

Mrs. Hopley awaited the dismissal of the employes at the end of the day's work, when they also declined to remain and give her the desired information. The only objection they made was that they desired to return to their respective homes, as duty required their presence there, as soon as possible.

FRIENDS.

Both Alice Hartwell and Ned Morgan intended to accomplish something in life, and with each other they were in no wise reticent as to what they should demand of the world.

They had been friends from youth, and when the girl's return renewed that friendship in all its intensity the gossip had much to say of a long settled matrimonial understanding.

It was the subject of conversation one August afternoon as they sat together in the cooling shade of the vines on the Hartwell porch.

"The very idea," laughed Ned. "These old people here haven't any idea beyond marrying and dying. Can't they understand that there are some other contingencies of existence besides these?"

"Of course not," answered Alice, also laughing, "and they would deem it rank heresy to hear you say so. You must remember that Blanktown has its code of rules and proprieties as changeable as the laws of the Medes and Persians."

"The very idea of you and me being lovers," went on Ned, "when we have been playmates, chums, companions from the mud pie period."

"The idea!" echoed Alice. "Why, there couldn't possibly be any romance about such a thing."

"Familiarity kills romance, you know." He said it as if he were uttering one of the foundation truths of the ages. And she acquiesced with "Of course."

"These people here," he continued in an oracular tone, "cannot appreciate the beauty of a perfect friendship existing between man and woman. They can only conceive of such a friendly relation degenerating into an affair of kisses, tears and sentiment."

"But we shall give them an example of something different, shall we not, Ned?"

"Yes, of a perfect friendship, where sex shall not be considered, where one shall be the confidant, the critic and the inspiration of the other."

"How glorious it will be! What a help we may be to each other! We shall be such friends as Hannah More and Dr. Johnson or Chateaubriand and Mme. Recamier, Paula and Jerome."

Well, Ned went to work and Alice went to work, Ned plugging away at the law and she entering the schools as a teacher, for neither was rich.

And their friendship did prove helpful to each other, for he was an artist student and she was a stern critic. And they were confidants.

"I know that you will talk to me with perfect honesty, Alice," he said. "I don't believe I really love Mary Mason as the world looks on love, but then she is a good, sensible girl. The match would be a good one and helpful in a worldly sense, and as for love—well, love will come with association."

"Of course," said Alice, "of course. But, Ned, do you think that just her particular cast of mind would suit you? She seems so terribly practical, you know, Ned. She doesn't seem to have those soft, womanly qualities that it seems to me a man would like. I wouldn't discourage you for an instant, Ned. But do you think you would be really happy with her, Ned?"

"Well, that's it," said Ned, stroking his bare chin. "That's it. For the life of me I don't know. A man's got to be mighty careful, mighty careful."

"Yes, he has," said Alice, and then for some unaccountable reason she went home and cried herself to sleep. But that's just like a woman, you know.

One day in the vacation period Alice came to Ned for advice.

"I have found teaching hard and tiresome, Ned," she said. "And, after all, the little home trials that a woman overcomes are her best conquests. I have no desire to go back to the school-room, and I have a chance to make a home for myself. Henry Armstrong has asked me to marry him. You know he is a kind hearted man, Ned, and he is settled and well fixed. Tell me, what do you think about it, Ned?"

"Why, Alice," said the young man, "I had no idea you were so mercenary."

"I'm not, Ned."

"Oh, don't talk to me! Henry Armstrong, indeed! But marry him—marry him by all means."

"Why, you're not angry, are you, Ned?"

"What I mean is that I don't think that Henry Armstrong is half good enough for you, and I don't believe you love him either."

"I don't know that I do, but you didn't love Mary Mason either—at least you said so."

"Oh, that's right! Throw that folly into my face."

"Well, I thought—"

"Yes, you thought. A woman like you, Alice, needs somebody to think for her." And this lord of creation stalked away in high dudgeon.

He wrote a letter that night and posted it, and Alice received it by the first mail next morning. It ran thus:

Miss Hartwell—Your actions are entirely beyond explanation. The heart of a man is not to be played with. But I hope you will marry Henry Armstrong and be happy. It doesn't matter what comes of me. Your neglected lover.

Two hours after its receipt Ned followed it in person with a highly injured air.

And she, because she was a very soft little person, ran to meet him with a glad face.

"Oh, Ned," she cried, "I never did want to marry Henry Armstrong at all. But you said we could only be friends and mutual critics, and—Ned, a girl wants to be loved."

When a dining room table can never be surprised looking disorderly, that is one sign the family eats in the kitchen.

AMUSEMENTS.

Recognizing the tendency of the times to cheapen prices for sensible healthy amusements, the manager of the "Uncle Josh Spruceby" company which appears at the Auditorium on next Monday night, September 9, have decided to appear this season at 10, 20 and 30 cent prices. The wisdom of this move appears to have been justified by the packed houses that greet the company everywhere. The play is an enjoyable New England comedy drama, and for the past nine years has appeared only at regular prices all over the country. Special scenery, the great saw mill scene, the big operatic orchestra, and a first class company are still carried, and no attempt has been made to cheapen the attraction on account of playing at popular prices. Remember the curtain will rise promptly at 8 o'clock.

At Idlewild Casino.

This week's bill at the Idlewild Park Casino, which is well worth seeing, embraces the following:

Fletcher's Imperial Orchestra.
Mlle. Scott, premier flying ring artist; Chas. W. Young, singing comedian and story teller; Franklin Sisters, singers, dancers and change artists; Louie Dacre, the funny lady in her own original creations; Wessen and Walters, in the latest farcical success, "Her Beauty Doctor."

A Superb Circus Parade.
The parade of the Great Wallace Show will leave the exhibition grounds promptly at 10 o'clock on Monday morning, Sept. 9, and will traverse the principal streets of the city.

Wallace has a reputation for making a splendid street display, and to people who have never seen the Wallace Circus the length and richness of the parade is a revelation.

There are three bands in line, the first one being in a gilded chariot, which is drawn by eight handsome cream colored horses. The eight-horse team, with the harness and trappings, is exactly similar to those driven to the late Queen Victoria's coach upon state occasions.

One half of the cages are open in parade, including the immense den of the biggest hippopotamus in captivity. More dens are thrown open to the public in parade by the Wallace show than by any other traveling organization.

Every wagon, be it tableau or cage, is a work of art, all the latest improvements and costly inventions and innovations are made to contribute to the attractiveness of the Wallace Circus parade, by means of the handsome chariots, ponderous dens, alabaster displays, all of which are superb results of artistic handicraft.

That portion of the parade known as the "Children's Menagerie" is very pleasing. The score of miniature wagons being drawn by one hundred fat, sleek little Shetland ponies.

The Great Wallace Show will exhibit in Newark on Monday, September 9th.

Amusement Notes.
The Kluge and Erlanger Comedy company and the Rogers brothers in "The Rogers Brothers in Washington," have made the biggest hit in Buffalo scored in years. They opened to over $1200, and during the remainder of the week played to capacity, selling out each day before six o'clock. They are now at the Knickerbocker theatre in New York.

Besides directing the tour of Robert B. Mantell and that of "A Secret Warrent," this season, M. W. Hanley and Son will also produce a new musical farcical comedy "A Runaway Match" written by the successful author.

Mark E. Swan, it will be out on the road in a few weeks with a special company of comedians.

Robert B. Mantell, again under the management of M. W. Hanley will tour this season in a series of elaborate revivals of the classical drama, his repertoire embracing "Hamlet," "Richard III," "Othello," "The Lady of Lyons," "Roméo and Juliet" and "Richelieu."

It promises to be one of the most interesting days of the great show at Buffalo. Elaborate arrangements have been completed for an interesting and novel demonstration. The grand parade on the Exposition grounds that day will be extremely unique and interesting. It will illustrate the different methods of transportation in use since Adam and Eve moved out of the Garden of Eden. There will be many striking novelties in the way of special features. Hon. Chauncey Depew will be one of the distinguished orators. The night illuminations and fireworks will be highly enjoyable for Pan-American visitors. Special low fares in effect over the Pennsylvania Lines will permit everybody to attend at small expense. For particulars about the cost of tickets, through time to Buffalo, etc., apply to nearest Ticket Agent of the Pennsylvania Lines.

"Something doing every second" is the programme for Railroad Day at the Pan-American Exposition, Saturday, Sept. 14th. Low fares via Pennsylvania Lines.

A wedding in a cage of twenty-five lions is one of the novel events being arranged for Railroad Day at the Pan-American Exposition, Sept. 14th. A gilded cage of strong steel is to be placed in the center of the Esplanade and will contain twenty-five lions. The wedding party, including ushers, will be driven to the cage and enter the same in the presence of the crowd. After the ceremony a wedding supper will be served in the cage in the m. l. of the lions. It will be a romantic affair. See the going to Buffalo on Pan-American Excursion tickets sold at low fare via Pennsylvania Lines. Further information about them may be obtained from Ticket Agent J. L. Worth, Newark.

A LITTLE BIG WASTE.

DISTINGUISH between economy and wisdom. Sitting at home to save shoe-leather is economy, but it is scarcely wisdom. In the same way, doing without Ivory Soap is economy but it isn't wise; your risks are greater than all possible saving. Every cheap soap contains free alkali. Now, free alkali will eat its way through the new oil cloth on the kitchen floor. Imagine then what it will do in a single Monday's washing! Is such economy wise?

GRANT'S RETREAT.

The General Went When a Policeman's Club Pointed the Way.

Speaking of nightsticks reminds me of seeing General Grant in his to my mind greatest hour, the only time he was ever beaten, and by a policeman. I told his son, Fred Grant, of it when he became a police commissioner in the nineties, but I do not think he appreciated it. He was not cast in his great father's mold. The occasion I refer to was after the general's second term in the presidency. He was staying at the Fifth Avenue hotel, when one morning the Masonic temple was burned. The fire line was drawn half way down the block toward Fifth avenue, but the police were much hampered by the crowd and were out of patience when I, standing by, saw a man in a great ulster with head buried deep in the collar, a cigar sticking straight out, coming down the street from the hotel. I recognized him at sight as General Grant. The policeman who blocked his way did not. He grabbed him by the collar, swung him about and, hitting him a resounding whack across the back with his club, yelled out: "What's the matter with you? Don't you see the fire line? Chase yourself out of here and be quick about it."

The general never said a word. He did not stop to argue the matter. He had run up against a sentinel and when stopped went the other way. That was all. The man had a right to be there; he had none. I was never so much an admirer of Grant as since that day. It was true greatness. A smaller man would have made a row, stood upon his dignity and demanded the punishment of the policeman. As for him, there was probably never so badly frightened a policeman when I told him whom he had clubbed. I will warrant he did not sleep for a week, fearing all kinds of things. No need of it. Grant probably never gave him a thought.—Jacob Riis in Outlook.

STORIES OF SPORT LEWIS.

Incidents in the Career of a Backer of Prizefighters.

The late Warren H. Lewis, sporting man and backer of prizefighters, was a railroad engineer by trade, and a good one, says the New York World. He was born in Ithaca, N. Y., in October, 1845. When the civil war was on a boy, he had charge of an engine on the Lehigh Valley road. He quit railroad and went to the front with the Fifth New York Heavy artillery. His left arm was broken in battle and he had to quit the service, being honorably discharged. For years he belonged to Farnham post, G. A. R. H. drew a pension.

The arm that was broken in the war was not set properly. It was crooked. "That arm," said Monte Lewis, his son, "foiled a lot of men handy with their fists. Pop could hit an awful blow with it even if it were crooked. The bend in it fooled people. They thought it wouldn't land because it was crooked, and didn't even dodge. But it would land, and land hard."

Lewis had made a good deal of money in his day and, according to the Lewis family, the fortunes of Warren began to wane when he linked himself with Jim Corbett. How he happened to do this was told for the first time the other day.

"Pop was out drinking with Jael McLaughlin," said Monte, "and they met Al Smith in the Gilsey House. Al told pop that Fitz had put up $2,500 for a fight with Corbett; that Corbett was strapped and didn't have a backer. Pop had been drinking, and said he would put up the money. Somebody told the newspaper reporters that same night that pop would back Corbett and it was printed the next morning. He backed Corbett, but on him, took a private car for himself and friends to Carson City, lived in it for days and in all lost about $10,000."

Lewis never broke his word with prizefighters. He offered a $2,500 purse for a fight between Peter Maher and Steve O'Donnell on the afternoon of Christmas, 1897. This was the greatest frost in the history of New York prizefighting, the house being practically empty.

"Just before the fight was to begin," said Monte, "I went to pop and told him to call it off and refund the money to those who had paid. He refused, saying: 'I'll have this fight for myself. I'll pay the $2,500 and sit in a box and watch it. Let all Coney Island come in free and see the sport.'"

That fight lasted less than a minute. The only complaint Lewis made was a half joking one to Peter Maher, saying: "Peter, I told you not to hit that fellow hard at first, as I wanted to get my money's worth."

POPULAR SCIENCE.

Mercury's year is only 88 days, that of Venus 225 days and of Mars 687 days.

Cumulus, or thunder clouds, rarely rise over two miles. Seven miles is the outside height for any cloud.

The edge of the moon is so broken by peaks, ridges and valleys that the length of totality during a solar eclipse is affected by them.

The sun's heat raises from the earth 37,000,000 tons of water a minute. To do the same work artificially a cube of coal 290 miles deep, wide and high would have to be burned every second. The archaic, wasteful "beehive" oven process of making charcoal has been superseded in many parts of Germany by modern methods which save all the ammonia, gas, tar and other products of the wood.

A human body contains some of the small things of nature. The blood, for example, is a colorless liquid in which little red globules are floating. Every drop of it contains about a million of the globules, and they are susceptible of division into smaller globules still.

He Heals Humanity.

By the Wonderful Power of Vital Magnetism.

The many remarkable cures accomplished by the "Boy Phenomenon" at the public exhibition, given in this city have been everywhere discussed and commented upon as something so truly amazing in the healing art that it is almost beyond belief unless they have been eye-witnesses to their restoration. The following letters of gratitude from cured patients are only samples of the many who have been cured since his arrival. Names are never published without the consent of patient.

To the afflicted:—

From gratitude for my sudden restoration, I make this public acknowledgement, feeling it a duty to humanity to give credit where merit is found. I was compelled to remain in bed nine weeks. Medicines did not seem to reach my case. I was afflicted with paralysis. There being a gradual loss of power. But since this young healer treated me, I feel like a new man. He has certainly wrought a miracle in my case.

The Boy Wonder:—
I wish to express my heartfelt thanks and everlasting gratitude for what you have done for me. The results of your treatment have surprised all who knew of my hopeless, helpless condition. The rheumatism had so stiffened my joints and pains so great that it seems I have undergone a wonderful change. Now I raise my arms and walk without getting tired and feeling any pains. I solemnly swear the above statement to be the truth.

REUNION

WEDDING

Of Hon. B. F. James a Former Denison Student, and Miss McElroy at Bowling Green.

"Hon. B. F. James of Bowling Green Ohio, and Miss Myrtle McElroy, were quietly married Wednesday afternoon. Miss McElroy is the daughter of Captain Joseph C. McElroy, Postmaster of the House of Representatives. After a northern trip Mr. and Mrs. James will go to their home in Bowling Green, Ohio."

The above item taken from the Washington correspondence of the Cincinnati Enquirer of today, will be read with general interest by many Newark people, to whom the groom, Mr. James, is well known. Mr. James who is better known here by the title of "Ben" was some years ago a student at Denison university, Granville, and later a member of the Ohio House of Representatives. He was one of the speakers at the banquet given in connection with the promotion of the location of the permanent encampment grounds at Newark.

A QUERY

As to Constructing Dams in a Stream for the Purpose of Capturing Fish

Fallsburg, Sept. 4, 1901.
Editor Advocate: Will you please answer a question that is now being frequently asked by a number of good people in Fallsbury township? Has Mr. John Moran a right to construct little dams in the Tomika creek for the purpose of catching fish?

In answer to the above query it is only necessary to refer to the law on the subject. Any such method or device for capturing fish is strictly prohibited under the statute, and a severe penalty is provided for any such violation of the fish laws.

PUSHING

Work of Constructing Electric Line Between Columbus and Newark.
Moving Fences to Line.

The Columbus, Newark and Buckeye Lake Electric line is pushing things now in the neighborhood of Kirkersville, Etina and Reynoldsburg, says the Pataskala Standard. Farmers along this route begin to realize the reality of the thing, as many are compelled to move their fences back where they belong. This line, when completed, will succeed in widening the old pike about all the way from Columbus to Hebron, as encroachments have been made from time to time by the property owners along the road until the original width was greatly reduced. The new territory thus gained will allow the operation of the line without interfering materially with the public highway proper.

Decorate Friday.

Tomorrow is the date of the Ninety-fifth regiment's reunion to be held in this city. It is proper that the business men should honor the veterans by decorating their places of business tomorrow and a request is made that the stars and stripes and bunting be swung to the breeze on the occasion of this regimental reunion.

DOCTORS

Should Promptly Report Cases of Scarlet Fever and Diphtheria to the Health Officer.

Rumors having come to the ear of an Advocate reporter that diphtheria and scarlet fever seemed to be spreading in various sections of the city, due largely to the carelessness and indifference of the physicians in attendance on the cases, Health Officer Henry Day was seen concerning the matter. The doctor said that the reports of the cases are brought in late, and the quarantine is established after whole neighborhoods and visitors from distant parts of the city have been exposed. It was just such circumstances and conditions, continued the doctor, which led to the rapid spread of both scarlet fever and diphtheria several years ago. Both these diseases gained such a hold on the town that the public schools and Sunday schools were closed for a month or two, and only by the strenuous exertions of the Board of Health, was the epidemic wiped out. The Health Officer wishes the physicians of the city to understand that it is not his duty to visit these cases and make the diagnosis for the attending physician and report to him suspected cases with the request that he go to see them.

was hurt and the track was clear in a short time.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills have

the people so far away that they cannot be authenticated. It's home experience that continues because easily substantiated. It's the simple statement of things done and told in the words of the relieved.

Mr. A. Moore of No. 333 Locust street, Newark, Ohio, says: "I was troubled with sleeplessness and attacks of nervous headaches—the kind that leaves one weak. I got a box of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills

Thief Ransacked the Whole House and Left.

(Pataskala Standard.)

During the absence of Mr. and Mrs.
John Wickliff from their home at Lima, some four miles northwest of here,
on Wednesday last, their residence was ransacked from top to bottom by a thief, who succeeded in finding only a razor, a gold bracelet, two rings, some small change and other minor articles. Mr. Wickliff's two daughters were at home at the time, and were so frightened that they concealed themselves until an opportunity afforded when they escaped from the house and warned the neighbors.
Charles King and Reed McArthur responded, the latter being armed with a shot gun. However, the thief left before they arrived, although they saw him at a distance.

regularly for a number of years, and while some have been called from ed and each year finds the circle com-ures a place for holding the reunion next year was discussed and it was decided to meet at Mr. Charles Willoughby's near Outville Station in
